missioner to fill the vacancy. Judge Starke was authorized to make the necessary arrangements to care for Thomas Sessions, a "clipped and helpless" pauper.

At the December (1865) term of the Court a very singular order was made as follows: "Whereas Thomas Sessions, a pauper from the County of Walton and State of Florida was about a month since brought to this place and put down in the streets of Elba and to be a charge upon this County and whereas the County of Coffee has as many paupers now as it can properly provide for and even more, and whilst humanity has prompted the authorities here to extend such aid to said Sessions as his unfortunate necessities required, yet feeling it to be the unquestioned duty of the State and County where he last resided to assume that responsibility, it is hereby ordered that the said Sessions be forthwith conveyed to the County site of Walton County, Florida and delivered up to the proper authority there with positive instructions to the person (Mr. Jesse Bryant) who carries him, not to bring him back into this county and that for so doing the said Bryant shall be paid at the rate of four dollars per day out of any monies in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. At this term of the Court Judge B. W. Starke, L. J. Cole, McKenith Page, John M. Carmichael and H. H. Horton were members of the Commissioners Court.

Judge Starke and his Court met next January, 1866 and passed an order to establish a poor house for "providing a home for paupers," and Judge Starke was authorized to contract with L. J. Cole for the "lease of a tract of land containing forty acres cleared, with five acres under fence and the privileges of clearing and cultivating as much more of lands belonging to said Cole as may be necessary for the use of said poor house for five years without rent or compensation. The Court further authorized L. J. Cole and H. H. Horton to employ some suitable person to reside at said Poor House and superintend it as a keeper and report to the regular term of the Court in February, 1866. It was also ordered that Samuel Waters (colored) be declared a pauper and that L. J. Cole be allowed $8 per month for his support. At the Feb. term, 1866, Easther Parker, a pauper was allowed to stay at home and given $8 a month for her support. Wm. Thomas, a pauper and soldier, was allowed the same privilege and compensation.

Mr. A. Vaughn was succeeded as County Treasurer by J. L. Warren. In March 1866, the Court made provision for keeping letters of "pauper" from the County. At the April term, L. J. Cole was authorized to procure the services of a woman to keep the poor house and it was ordered by the Court that Martha Register, who was represented to be a pauper be brought before the next regular term of the Court to be examined on her claim of being a pauper.

Richard Knowles was employed by the Court to have provisions for the destitute of the County from the city of Montgomery at $2 per hundred weight for hauling to Elba. Agents to represent the destitute by beats were appointed as follows:

Beat 1—J. Y. Register; beat 2—Asa Ray; beat 3—John Fountain; beat 4—J. B. Peacock; beat 5—Wiley Godwin; beat 6—A. Vaughn; beat 7—B. D. Rushing; beat 8—W. J. Stephens; beat 9—W. W. to you not to bank on luck, for the person who trusts to luck has about the same chance for success that a dock-tailed horse has to switch a fly from the end of his nose. Luck is all right if you'll add one letter (p) to it, making "pluck" out of it. Don't forget that the largest "lemon crop" in the history of mankind is now growing in Florida and a lot of people are staying there because in failure to "clean up" they are unable to "clean out." OPP-ELBA HIGHWAY WILL BE ROUTED BY DAN-LEY'S CROSS ROADS.

The election held at Elba on last Friday to determine the location of the proposed Opp-Elba Highway, resulted in a majority of 86 votes for the Upper route, via Danley's X Roads. This election was held under the direction of a resolution of the State Highway Commission, and was participated in by those who were affected by the routing of this road. The vote was 255 for the Upper route and 169 for the Lower route.

A delegation of citizens went before the Highway Commission on Tuesday of this week, and placed in their hands the returns of this election, and the commission unanimously passed an order selecting the Upper or Danley's Cross Roads, as the route for the Highway. From our best information it is expected that surveyors will be on the job the last of this week or the first of next mapping out this road. It is hoped that all details can be completed and work started on this road within a few months.

WANTS HARMONY BETWEEN ELBA AND ENTERPRISE.

The Enterprise Ledger carried an article last week which fully expresses the views of this paper concerning sectional strife between the two divisions of Coffee County. We agree with him that political strife in the past, and we know that he is correct when he says that each side of the county has been in a political war.

We have the greatest county in this state and the whole of the United States. Any thing that is good should be good to us all and anything that helps any section of the county helps the county as a whole.

We generally have our meanest scraps over the office of representative, which is caused by each side of the county safeguarding against some local legislation which might be good for the other side of the county, but not good for its own. And this time we are to elect a representative and a senator from Coffee County.

The Ledger says that Judge Loflin is running for the State Senate and Will Brunson is running for representative, all of which is news to us. Neither of these men have announced in this paper and neither of them have talked with us concerning or been solicited by us to run. We have not taken any stock in the matter, and we expect to continue our attitude as it is not the policy of this paper to promote candidates in their political aspirations. We are simply saying this because we think it best for the county. There are two places to fill and we see no reason why one side of the county could not furnish a man for representative and the other a man for the Senate. If Judge Loflin is suitable for the place he is asking for, then let his side of the county have him, and let this side have the other place. If Loflin is suitable to his people, then we believe that the people over here will be satisfied. If Brunson is suitable to the people on his side of the county, we believe the other side will gladly take him.

Why have a scrap over these places. They do not pay more than expenses, and it is a sacrifice for the man who fills it. We believe this is what the Ledger was striking at in its columns last week, and let us say here that we would like to know if the Ledger agrees with us concerning this matter. So let us hear from you Mr. Enterprise Ledger if you please.

The Ledger goes further and says that the voters of this county should give a genuinely good drubbing to the candidate who tries to inject sectional strife in the coming primary, and to that we say Amen. We hope that every voter will keep himself on the lookout for such politics and should be find a candidate doing so, let him know how you feel by voting against him.

We would like to go further and say what we should remember any and all candidates who are put out by politicians or divisions, or factions. Such men should be remembered rather ignored at the polls. Let the men run who are being called on by the people as a whole. Let us hear from you Mr. Enterprise Ledger if you please.

China Has a Voice

There is quite a considerable "boating population" of several of the largest river cities of China, but the real Venice of that country is said to be Soe Chow, which is described as truly beautiful with its many canals running through the city, many of them taking the place of streets and dotted with all kinds of small craft carrying passengers and freight here and there. Boats are made use of to great extent by peddlers and tradesmen, who move slowly along over the water in all kinds of odd boats loaded with their wares. Some are calling their wares and others attract public attention by hammering wooden gongs. Everywhere along the shores are to be seen cobblers and weavers working at their looms or benches.

SMALL TOWN HUMOR AND PHILOSOPHY

By BUCK CAMPBELL

When a man reports to about of his competitor it's all off with the former.

Did people in the small town, if there are any, do not being there; they are transient.

Did you ever see a man die a people dog? No, but we have seen them chasing chickens quite often.

Polks who do the most boasting about high taxes, graft and corruption in office do the least to prevent it.

How about the old-fashioned fellow who advertised the cure for getting rich quick?

A girl isn't necessarily a peach because she has the bloom on her cheek; she may have gotten it at the drug store.

If you don't think a man can keep a secret, just think of the many men things that he knows about himself that he never tells.

Burning of dead leaves is burning humus, which makes an expensive fire

Liver Medicine

When I felt that way, and it would take me a day to feel better for days.

My husband takes it for biliousness. He says he has never found his equal. When he has the first heavy feeling, he takes Black-Draught, and in a few minutes he feels better. He doesn't complain any more.

I can't recommend Black-Draught enough.

Your liver is the largest organ in your body. When it gets out of order, it causes many troubles. Black-Draught is the best liver medicine.

MANY SCHOOLS OF COUNTY OBSERVE CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN.

During the months of January and February the schools of Coffee County have put on a clean up campaign. The schools are vying with each other in trying to be the cleanest. Children are given the responsibility in this and take pleasure in working for their schools. The teachers make excellent leaders and much improvement has been made. Not only are the buildings and grounds kept clean and in order but all school property is kept in as good repair as teachers and pupils can make them.

Other points being worked on by the schools are: Morning inspection of pupils; report of health habits; plenty of pure drinking water; two toilets in sanitary condition; room well ventilated, lighted, heated and floor oiled; supply of balls for all grades, play led by teacher, singing daily; and all text books in use by pupils. These points make up the housekeeping score card. The schools are keeping a record of these points and are grading themselves upon it. The following schools have recently sent their grades into the office of the County Superintendent of Education: Damascus, Victoria, Dyess, Antioch, Fairview, Alberton, Zion Chapel, Vanderbilt, Union Academy, Basin, Rhodes No. 68, Clintonville.

ALABAMA NEEDS MORE CORN

NEGLECTED CROP THAT COULD BE MADE MORE PROFITABLE.

A Food and Feed Crop That Can Make the Farm Self-Sustaining in a Large Measure.

C. A. Whitte.

In 1925 Alabama had 2,797,000 acres in corn which produced only 57,760,000 bushels, or 13 1/2 bushels to the acre. The average is large enough, apparently, but the yield is low. Corn is a great food and feed crop. It comes very near to itself making a farm self-sustaining by providing food and feed. It is used, hominy, grits, raising corn as food, and grain, feed or silage for livestock. As a food and feed crop corn is a strong leader to cotton. Corn closes the out for food and feed, so that more of the proceeds of the cotton crop will belong to the farmer and less to the supply merchant. Corn can be grown more cheaply, as a rule, than it can be bought with cotton. The reason corn yields are so poor is that it is planted, as a rule, on the poorest land, fertilized little or not at all, and cultivated indifferently. In these days of high prices, corn should have right of way on bottom lands. It would be a good business if, instead of raising a crop of wheat or cotton, a crop of corn could be grown. When there is such crying need for corn as there is this year, the vetted oats or wheat and corn will be harvested. There is no use, therefore, a farmer turning under wheat, corn, but, when that can be done, it will help the corn crop to make a worth while yield. Corn cannot profitably be used as a commercial plant food as cotton and other crops. Where 500 to 800 pounds of fertilizer would bring in maximum profits on cotton, 250 to 300 pounds of fertilizer would produce the most profitable corn crop. One thing outstanding about the short food demand for corn is its demand for silage. Therefore, it is better to have a higher percentage of silage in the mixed fertilizers than for cotton, or else supplement the fertilizer applied at planting time with a top dressing of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia when the corn is knee high to the ears. If corn is on ground, such as bottom land, the need of ammonia is not so great and the top dressing may be left off. The same is true where corn follows a heavy turned under, or where manure is applied.

A good corn fertilizer is a good cotton fertilizer, provided a top dressing of sulphate of ammonia is made to cover the exceptions being bottom land, heavy sand and matted land, where the top dressing may be left off. A good fertilizer for corn is a 16-0-12. On the 15th of March, 1926, the last figure in the formula may be lowered and only the higher percentage of phosphate used. Keep in mind the addition of ammonia (the second figure in the formula) as a top dressing, to be used twice, January and May.
